

The Children's Museum of Indianapolis and Conner Prairie Team Up with New Partners the Eiteljorg Museum, the NCAA Hall of Champions and the Indiana Historical Society to Offer Reduced Admission for Indiana Families in Need

The Children's Museum of Indianapolis and Conner Prairie Interactive History Park, two of the best family-friendly cultural institutions in the state, came together last year to offer greatly reduced admission to families in need throughout the State of Indiana. Now, these institutions are pleased to announce that three new partners will join this program to help underserved families: the NCAA Hall of Champions, the Indiana Historical Society and the Eiteljorg Museum of American Indians and Western Art.

This successful statewide initiative provides low-income Hoosier families with opportunities to visit any of these institutions at the reduced rate of $1 per family member. Indiana families with at least one member who is 18 years of age or older and who are part of the TANF (Temporary Assistance for Needy Families), food stamps or Hoosier Healthwise Insurance are eligible to participate in the Access Pass program.

These families can visit any of the Access Pass institutions and present a Hoosier Works card or Hoosier Healthwise Insurance card, together with photo identification, at the box office to receive $1 admission for immediate family members. They will be issued an Access Pass card that is renewable annually and provides family members the reduced rate throughout the year.
